1. Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript)	Yes, it is. But better if an amendment is made on almost all parts of the paper. To specify, the abstract, introduction and discussion part of the paper needs major modification and is mandatory to amend based on the comments indicated on the main manuscript on each part to fit the standard of the journal and the demand of readers.
2. Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	Yes, it is.
3. Is the abstract of the article comprehensive?	Somehow it is. But it has to be improved in a way that includes the statement of the problem and proper research methodology. Because the abstract should stand alone and transfer all the necessary information of the manuscript if someone wants to understand the overall content of the paper by reading the abstract. Additionally, some methodology should be included in it.
4. Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	No. Starting from the introduction all of the subsections of this manuscript need improvements. For example, the introduction is not supported with recent source/articles. The statement of problems of the paper is totally missed. The materials and methos part also need improvement based on the comments given on the main document.
5. Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct?	Yes, it is. But it is necessary to include and made improvement based on the comments and suggestions included on No 4 above and on the main body/manuscript.
6. Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form.	They are not sufficient mainly with respect to their year of publication the citations are too old. Therefore, these parts shall be supported by recent and relevant sources. Additionally, there is some references which are listed but not used in the main body.
(Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	I have read the manuscript and forward my suggestions rationally and scientifically on each and every part. So, I would like to embolden my final comment, the paper should be revised and rewritten by incorporating all the comments indicated on each part for the betterment of the manuscript and to increase its acceptance for international authors
