Minor REVISION comments <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications? 	A few general comments: Peruse this website: https://apastyle.apa.org/style-grammar-guidelines/references/examples to be sure that your references are in APA style. Particularly note to use sentence capitalization (only capitalize first letters of first words, abbreviations, and proper nouns/adjectives) in titles of books, journal articles, and electronic sources. Remember to italicize: journal names and volumes, titles of books, titles of online journals, and titles of electronic source pages. When you cite in the body of the manuscript, use "&" in parentheses, but "and" outside them. For example: According to Smith and Jones (2020), but (Smith & Jones, 2020). Make all verbs in the past tense when discussing your results, as your findings are done. In recommendations, you can use future tense. Capitalize all letters in the abbreviation COVID.
