Optional/General comments	The text retrospectively describes the incidence of fungal and parasitic infections in a population of patients undergoing biopsy in a tertiary care center. The text is organized and the individual cases are described appropriately. It would be interesting for the authors to report also the haematological markers studied and in particular those which have been most altered in the case of fungal or parasitological infections. Authors should also report the biopsy method used and also CT images of more specific cases such as aspergillosis of the mammary gland and histoplasmosis of the bone.
