

Editor's Comment:

Thank you very much for the email requesting for the editorial decision. After going through the review process and the revised manuscript, I state that it can be accepted for publication in the Journal. However, I suggest language corrections are still possible in the manuscript. Further, I suggest the title may be slightly modified as: "Comparison of the effect of Olanzapine, Haloperidol and quetiapine on the resolution of individual delirium symptoms in ICU patients: a double-blind, clinical trial study".
