Which was widely dubbed a "historic state visit," the start of a "new horizon," or "a new historical starting point" of Sino-Bangladesh relations. On the eve of the 40th anniversary of Sino-Bangladesh ties, there lots of history of the thousand-year-old friendship between the China and Bangladesh. The relationship between China and Bangladesh is changing very fast after the twenty-first century. But also there have some constant relation between Sino-Bangladesh. In this paper to begin with the Author tried to explain the thousand-year-old friendship between the two countries and also tried to find out the "Change" and the "Constant" in international relations based on the Sino-Bangladesh perspective. Most importantly, calling the relationship between China and Bangladesh a "strategic partnership of cooperation" instead of a "comprehensive partnership of cooperation" gives it more energy. The above innovative approach to strategic collaboration denotes concentrated involvement as well as co-operation across all matters of common interest and mutual benefit, including political, economic, cultural, and security issues at the bilateral, national, and international levels, as well as other local and global matters. China is now Bangladesh's biggest trade partner, and the two countries work together by training and practicing. The Bangladesh government is constructing development infrastructure to realize the dreams of "My Bangla," "Vision 2021," and "Vision 2041" in medium and developed nations. Aside from this procedure, China goes to great lengths to assist Bangladesh in building infrastructure in a variety of ways, including through pressure, recognition, and projects. Bangladesh is now China's second biggest trade partner in South Asia, and China is now Bangladesh's largest trading partner. The growing strategic competition between the United States and China will affect Bangladesh's options and future. Their competition in South Asia is increasingly played out on the ground of Bangladesh, between China and India. Bangladesh tries to have a triangular relationship with the US, China, and India to ease these pressures. China-Bangladesh business and economic cooperation have significant potential. In the conclusion of this review article Author concluded that bind Bangladesh and China are beneficial to both nations. Bangladesh's friendship with India goes back more than two thousand and fifty years. Because of this, the country stands to gain a lot in all areas of cooperation. The advantage of this review article is the way of narration, which allows the reader to recognize the credibility of the interpretation of the presented theories, facts, concepts, argumentations, and effects of project level strategies on performance of construction projects. Another advantage of the work is the use of impressive literature on the subject and sources. There are important in the scientific world: monographs and studies as well as articles printed in scientific journals. There are also theoretical works, based on which the Author create own approach.
