This can be witnessed by the approach to gender, particularly women and their role in an African society. Hence, it can be said that this is a text that makes an interesting rescue on the role of African women and considers the reality of Zambia. Its title fits perfectly in the proposed discussion carried out in the work. The wording of the abstract allows the reader to have a generalized understanding of the proposed discussion within the text. It contains the important aspects of an abstract such as the objective, the theoretical view of reading the investigated reality, the methodology, the results achieved. The structure of the work is perfectly laid out as required by the rules for presenting scientific works of this nature. I believe, therefore, that the article responds to the existing scientific requirements. References are adequate, up-to-date and focus directly on the scope and object researched.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	With regard to technical linguistic aspects, it is important to highlight: Use of very well constructed sentences. Use of adequate vocabulary, which allows the understanding of the subject discussed in each topic of the work. Therefore, it is an article that observed the mandatory writing rules for scientific texts for the dissemination of knowledge that is produced.
Optional/General comments	It is a text with great potential for publication, not least because it proposes to carry out and produce knowledge that refers to a specific group (women) and their role as managers or decision makers in the field of education in a specific region of Zambia.
