SCANDINAVIAN ABSTRACT This article aims to highlight how from the trolls of mythology and folklore, we have moved to online trolls and the so-called practice of trolling. Through bibliographic and network research it is realized that the development of the internet marks a new era, where almost all aspects of our lives are affected by it and now the internet is considered one of the biggest cultural phenomena of the time. Nevertheless, cyberspace presents quite often infringing elements and practices. Some of them are the well-known internet trolls and the practice of trolling by trolls on unsuspecting internet users. So, we notice that, with the development of technology, the mythological and folklore troll creature has turned into an internet troll, i.e., a malicious cyberspace user.
