

Editor's Comment:

The paper is good for the journal and can be accepted for publication provided

1. In the abstract acronyms are used which cannot be understood by all readers. Generally, the convention is to expand the acronym on first use.

2. The line "The histogram was calculated for each pixel" is to be reframed as "each pixel " is not meaningful.

3. The y-axis of the graphs shows 120,110 as I think it is the percentage on the y-axis. Kindly check it out.
