Compulsory REVISION comments 1. Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript) 2. Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) 3. Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? 4. Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? 5. Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? 6. Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	Yes, the manuscript provides data from a population which has traditionally been underserved and available data is very limited. Any attempt to obtain data about underserved populations should be encouraged. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes. Yes.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Overall, language quality is suitable. However, there are a few grammatical errors. 1. In the 2 nd line of abstract, Aging should not be capitalized. 2. In line 5 of introduction, the word "Adult's" is redundant, and should not be capitalized anyway. 3. In the last line of page 10, "This" should not be capitalized.
Optional/General comments	Overall, it is a decent study which demonstrates that the African population is in the situation where the Western world was a generation ago, when older individuals had atherosclerotic risk factors and the young were relatively risk free. Hopefully, this can stimulate educational measures to help keep the population in this stage rather than progress to the stage seen in the developed world and South Asia, where even the young have multiple risk factors for CAD and present with severe disease in their 20s.
