

Editor's Comment:

1. It is submitted for your kind honour that the research article entitled" E-Learning In Rural Secondary Schools Under Sarpang Dzongkhag: Opportunities And Challenges" is copied and pasted from students' research thesis, which needs further improvements to be carried out .

2. It is requested please send back to the researcher sothat he or she can restructure from thesis format to research article format.

OR

3. Send me office copy of original research article so that I can send you back approved article after doing needful improvement in research article format at International level.

4.An early action is requested, please.
