

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript 2023/AJAEES/99163 presents serious flaws and weaknesses that led me to reject this paper.

Specifically:

1. The used methodology (descriptive analysis) gives very simple and surface results through a frequencies-only presentation.
2. A Discussion section is missing.
3. There is no presented serious theoretical framework and serious references are missing
4. There are no presented details for the study area and secondary data mentioned on this area (map also).
5. The survey sample size is limited and the authors do not present how and why they selected the specific size of the sample, the specific villages, and the representative character of the sample.
