Optional/General comments	Line 5: Some dried fish are largely consumed as source of nutrient by man changed to some dried fish are largely consumed as a source of nutrients by man. Line 6: as vehicle for transmission changed to as a vehicle for the transmission Line 9: Provide proper space and write the scientific names in italics. The Abstract not clearly mention the objective, which drying method has been studied and so on. The Abstract should be rewritten. Line 9-10: When consumed, it might be the source of human infection and some are not pathogenic (free living) – This leads to misunderstanding of the concept. Line 20-24: 2 Reference missing Line 24: Kindly recheck all the references mentioned in the manuscript. Most of the reference was not found in the reference section. Line 37; species names should be italic Line 52: Repetition of sentence Line 57-58: climatic condition of Osogbo favours the growth of many microorganisms.. What is means. Any scientific reference. What is the climatic condition of the study area.. What temperature was the product has been purchased? How it has been stored.. No proper scientific methodology has been followed. One month of sampling with 7 days of storage study had no scientific norms. Why the collected samples only analyzed for 7 days? When the samples where actually packed. There is no figures has been showed the fungal growth.
