Optional/General comments	It is an interesting manuscript about the application of an specific extract of plant seeds with anti-corrosion properties. The Research work is interesting and It was used different techniques to evaluate the performance of the potential product. It merit to be published; however please consider the following comments and suggestions: i) Please revise the description and discussion of this section "3.1.1 - EFFECT OF EXTRACT CONCENTRATION ON INHIBITION EFFICIENCY". There is missing details and development of text. So many results non-described. It is an observation. ii) The trends observed in the Graphs are in many cases clear; however it is recommended to add error bars to experimental data. It is just a suggestion. iii) There is missing development of text in the other sections as well. Please add description, comparison with other results, discuss, explain, and highlight the insights and novelty of the observation recorded in these set of experiments. iv) It is suggested to add more discussion, comparison with other reports from
