

Editor's Comment:

The paper is accepted with minor revision.

This "both the male and female child attains" may be corrected to be "both the male and female children attain".

The authors may delete this sentence "This review will also explore the outcomes of early sexual education and awareness among girls of different countries to compare the effectiveness of sexually transmitted disease prevention" because the meaning has been mentioned before.

The aim of the work (in abstract and introduction) must also be written in the past; Not in the future.
