

Editor's Comment:

I have carefully read the attached manuscript in its revised form, in the light of the two Reviewers' comments. In my opinion, the manuscript is a rather preliminary communication rather than a self-standing scientific paper. It describes the effect of the studied plant Terminalia catappa, but no hypotheses about the action mechanism(s) have been suggested.

In conclusion, the manuscript could be published, provided that the Authors carry on a very serious revision/integration/rewriting of the manuscript.
