This manuscript mentions research work that involves formulation and quality analysis of nutritious biscuits made using an underutilized, healthy, readily available source (Tiger-Nut) and Amaranth grain flour. These two components have shown a good nutritious profile while providing the desirable texture (crispiness) to the biscuits. Such food sources should be brought under attention for further exposure and utilization owing to their rich nutritional value, cost effectiveness and favourable rheological properties. YES YES YES YES YES
