

Editor's Comment:

The findings in this study are definitely of potential clinical interest, however certain points need to be clarified before the manuscript can be considered for publication.

Specific comments

- 1-To ensure the non-toxicity of this formulation, studying its effect on the skin of rats is necessary.
- 2- It is not enough to study antioxidant activity in at least one way to confirm effectiveness.
- 3- The authors should clarify the concentration of active ingredients present in both the plant extract and this formulation.
