

Editor's Comment:

I have carefully read the manuscript, which is of quite good quality. However, I have found that the Authors had not met all the reviewers' recommendation, especially with regard to italicization of some Linnaean names of the cited plants. Moreover, I suggest that for ALL the cited plants, even the most common and known, the Linnaean nomenclature should be given in addition to the common names. Apart from these minor points, the manuscript reports on a very good study and deserves rapid publication.

As a personal observation, I am glad to find that the most recent manuscripts you have sent for editorial approbation are in general of high quality, on both scientific and syntactical grounds.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Enrico Sanjust
Associate Professor, University of Cagliari, Italy.