

Editor's Comment:

Manuscript should be rejected.

I have made a small change to be considered.

Yes (one of the Keyword Jharkhand is not found in the text, keywords are to be used in search to find the paper in the internet, It should be a dominant word)

1. Please pay attention on the reading signs (colon, semi colon, comma etc.) place them within the text when appropriate.
2. It may be better to calculate statistics in terms of t test (for example) to see significant different among parameters measured in Table 1. The statistical calculation will improve the performance of the paper (more sophisticated and provide strong basis for a judgement – base on significant different), even though, the frequency and percentage may provide a similar judgment.
3. Conclusions should consist of the main findings and short discussions when necessary (these were not clearly provided by the author). Critics and suggestions may also be included as already given by the author.
