

Editor's Comment:

I carefully read the original and amended manuscripts along with the reviewers' comments. I found the reviewers' comments relevant and useful to improve the quality of the manuscript. I noticed that the authors have successfully revised the manuscript according to the reviewers' comments. Now the manuscript is more readable, comprehensive and in line with the journal's scope.

Apart from some minor problems with typesetting, table organization, reference checking and linguistic editing, the manuscript is complete in all respects. In my opinion, the manuscript focuses on a relevant topic and can contribute significantly to the field of knowledge to which it relates.

I recommend the acceptance of the manuscript.
