

Editor's Comment:

Regarding the paper about domestic violence against men:

It is quite a new approach (but the References prove that it is an issue of our days), but very sensitive and interesting to be focused on.

The paper has to be organized:

Introduction

Literature Review

Methodology, in which I think it's good to include within it the problem of the Empirical Review.

Findings and Discussions

Conclusions (though it is a sole conclusion, as in this paper) the part is entitled Conclusions

With re-shape of the paper, it is ok to be published as an example for other similar cases.
