Optional/General comments	It is an interesting manuscript about Biotechnology from the point of view of medicinal plants. It affords to an innovative link between natural products and technology perspectives. It merits to be published. Please check the following observations and suggestions: i) this manuscript is interesting for the wide view and do many themes and topics in relation to natural products, medicinal plants and Biotechnology. But, it is suggested to evaluate an organization by some criteria using some factor or variable in common. This mention is because it looks like the review is sumatory of interesting topics. For example, consider to divide the topics: a) Natural products with perspectives Biotechnology and new innovative technologies; and b) Current Biotechnology related with medicinal plants. It is just an example; and by this manner you incorporate items related from plants to technology; while in the second one it is presented more advanced approaches of current technology known as Arrays, genomics, cancer treatments, etc. ii) please revise the English writing.
