Compulsory REVISION comments <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript) Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	The title could be more specific and informative. Consider adding a specific focus or angle of your literature review, such as "Barriers to IMCI Implementation in Developing Countries: A Literature Review." Background: Provide a more detailed background on IMCI, including its components and how it addresses the five leading causes of death in infants and children in developing countries. You could also include statistics or specific examples to highlight the impact of IMCI. Purpose: The purpose of your study is clear, but consider adding more specific research questions or objectives to guide your literature review. Methods: Specify the inclusion criteria used to select the literature for your review. Provide more details on the search strategy used, including keywords and databases searched. Consider mentioning any limitations of your review, such as language or publication date restrictions. Results: Provide a summary of the key findings related to the factors influencing IMCI implementation. Consider organizing the results into categories or themes to improve clarity. Conclusion: Your conclusion is concise, but consider expanding it to discuss the implications of your findings for policy, practice, and future research. Additionally, consider highlighting any gaps in the literature or areas for further investigation. The references cover a range of locations and aspects related to the implementation of IMCI. However, it's important to note that the relevance and sufficiency of the references depend on the specific context and focus of your study.
Minor REVISION comments <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications? 	yes
Optional/General comments	Overall, the article has potential but could benefit from some revisions to enhance clarity, coherence, and supporting evidence.
