

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript is dealing with a subject of obvious practical and economical concern and the analytical procedure is well conducted.

The Authors have taken good account of the main suggestions from the two Reviewers; which contribute to improve the original manuscript.

I just further suggest making the title more explicit for foreign readers as:

' Co-integration and causality analysis of "castor" (Ricinus communis) markets in India'

The revised version of the manuscript, thus completed, will make it satisfying for publication in ARJA.
