

Editor's Comment:

Please ask the author to respond to my comments and explain the changes they has made. Replying with only «edited» is not acceptable.

Also, please ask the author to highlight changes in the text, preferably with color. The changes must be trackable.

The Discussion section introduced by the author is not efficient. The Discussion section must demonstrate the novelty of the findings and the differences of the findings from those made by other scholars. No alternative points of view are now discussed, no previous studies explored and referenced in the Discussion.
