

Editor's Comment:

I evaluated the reviewers comments and the author's reponses to these commentas and I see that: It is necessary to correct the writing format of the paragraph under the Reliability Test heading in a different manner from the rest of the text.It appears that the tables are not formatted properly.It is difficult to read the graph under the heteroskedasticity test.There is no "justify" in the References section.There were largely no corrections made in response to the third reviewer's request.It was requested that the author combine three separate small tables into one table, but this was not done by the author.Currently, it is not suitable for publication.The document needs to be corrected as necessary.
