The study samples received good sensorial ranking showing HEB with migratory locust as preferred one. The findings demonstrated that insect-enriched high energy biscuits could serve a sustainable alternative for alleviation of protein energy malnutrition and micronutrient deficiencies. Ok Need to be more specific and elaborate Yes Yes need some minor corrections References need to follow a suitable format and should be in alphabetical order. Can add more additional references of 15-20
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Yes
Optional/General comments	The researcher has attempted to depict the importance of edible insect in this fast growing world where there might be scarcity of protein source in the long run. The study can recognise edible insects as alternative protein source in the production of a nutritious high energy biscuit.
