

Editor's Comment:

I have critically gone through the Revised Manuscript entitled " Zinc nutrition in rice based cropping systems: a comprehensive review" submitted by the authors. I have made some corrections in the manuscript wherever possible and those were needed to improve the presentation. I have marked some statements in "Grey colour" those were not clear to me and the statements appears to be confusing. The authors require to incorporate the indicated corrections on the manuscript and highlighted statements may please be clarified accordingly. My decision is, only after complying with the above, the manuscript may be accepted for publication in the Journal of Experimental Agriculture International.
