PART 1: Review Comments

Compulsory REVISION comments	Reviewer's comment	Author's Feedback (Please correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Please write few sentences regarding the importance this manuscript for scientific community. Why do you like (or dislike) this manuscript? Minimum 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	At first glance, chronic pain and depression might seem like separate entities by one affecting the body and the other the mind. But experts now recognize that they often coexist and influence each other in what's called a feedback loop (Eleesha Lockett, 2024). According to the American Psychiatric Association (APA), people with chronic pain face a higher risk of developing mental health disorders, including depression and anxiety (Eleesha Lockett, 2024). Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	"DEPRESSION AND CHRONIC PAIN: A LITERATURE REVIEW" is fine. However, is up to the author to consider another title like "The relationship between Depression and Chronic Pain: A Literature Review".
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here.	The abstract is expressing the review adequately and well reflected.
Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	All organized appropriately enough.
Please write few sentences regarding the scientific correctness of this manuscript. Why do think that this manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound? Minimum 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	Because studies have shown that chronic pain and depression are closely linked. For instance: - A 2021 study found that poor sleep quality (often associated with chronic pain) directly affected depressive symptoms in individuals living with chronic pain. - Another study from the same year revealed that people with chronic illnesses characterized by pain were more likely to experience depression. The severity of pain played a significant role in determining depression risk.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form.	For me, the references were sufficient.
Minor REVISION comments Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	The language is using well English expression and understandable that even the non-academic individuals can read and understand.
Optional/General comments	N/A
