<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Grammatical errors persist in the manuscript, with inconsistent use of capitalization. For example, the "Reliability Analysis" section, along with other sections, requires careful review to ensure proper grammar and consistent capitalization throughout. 2. The inclusion of the Kolmogorov-Smirnov (KS) statistic with p-values, a key goodness-of-fit metric, is still missing for both datasets. Adding it under future work is not appropriate, as it is crucial for evaluating model performance in the current study. 3. Please include a proper future work section that outlines meaningful areas for further research, focusing on gaps or limitations identified in the current study. This section should suggest relevant directions for future research rather than deferring essential components, such as key metrics, to later work.
