If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	1. Yes, the manuscript holds significant importance for the scientific community as it addresses relevant research question. The findings contribute valuable insights to the existing body of knowledge in the field. 2. Yes, the title of the article effectively captures the essence of the research, providing a clear and concise indication of the study's focus. No alternative title suggestions are necessary. 3. Yes, the abstract of the article is comprehensive and summarize the key objectives, methodology, results, and conclusions of the research. It provides a clear overview for readers. 4. Yes, the subsections and structure of the manuscript are well-organized, facilitating easy navigation and understanding of the research. 5. Yes, the manuscript demonstrates scientific accuracy, with well-supported methods, data analysis, and interpretation of results. 6. Yes, the references in the manuscript are sufficient and up-to-date, encompassing relevant literature in the field. No additional references are required as the current ones adequately support the research findings.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	1. Yes, the language and English quality of the article are appropriate for scholarly communications. The minor revisions I made using the track changes option in Word have enhanced readability of the manuscript, ensuring it meets the standards expected for scholarly communication. 2. After reviewing the manuscript, I would like to suggest incorporating shorter sentences to improve readability and comprehension. Breaking down complex ideas into concise statements can enhance the overall clarity of the content and make it more accessible for readers. 3. I noticed that the word "Apple" is consistently capitalized throughout the document. I would like to suggest that, in this context, it should be written in lowercase.
Optional/General comments	I would like to emphasize the importance of maintaining consistency in the number of decimals for numerical values throughout the document. Please ensure that the same level of precision is applied consistently across all relevant sections of the manuscript. This will not only enhance the overall professional presentation of the research but also contribute to the clarity and accuracy of the findings.
