If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	Include the study design in the title Saying that the study design is quantitative study is not correct Methodology How the sample size was calculated What sampling Technique was used Define what do you mean by elderly age Give eligibility criteria Was it a community based study or hospital based study How the blood pressure was measured. Give the standard procedure of recording blood pressure Results From table 2 onwards it is not clear what author wants to say because as per table 1, only few people have hypertension but from table 2 onwards all 95 are included in the analysis as if all are hypertensive and few have normal blood pressure at the time of study. So author should make it clear that whether the study was carried out among only known cases of hypertension Discussion Give limitations of the study
