

Editor's Comment:

As usual I studied with pleasure the materials you've sent me! Now I see that the manuscript was evaluated as acceptable for publication by three independent and qualified reviewers. They made some remarks, which were gladly accepted by the thankful author(s). Right now the manuscript is almost ready for publication. The only remark from me as editor - the necessity to edit the reference list, as "doi references" are enumerated as independent references. I tried to change the situation (attached). After these changes the manuscript is ready for publication.
