

Editor's Comment:

I have reviewed the documents you sent for the editorial decision. After these corrections are made, the study can be published. Writing the manuscript in a simpler and more article format will also make it easier to read.

Reviewer comments

- The questionnaire is not added as an annexure to the article.
- In the Methodology, the author expressed that he shared the questions in Google Forms and assessed them manually. I feel there is a conflict here.
- The type of research mentioned is not standard
- Table 9 needs more explanation
- References are not in Vancouver style. Numbers are not given throughout the article.
- it is best not to include a summary, just a conclusion and only a few recommendations
- Describe the findings of each formulation of your research problem.
