

Editor's Comment:

The author prepared this work very carelessly. He did not write according to the journal format, he partially made the corrections given by the referees, he showed the corrections in a different color, and he did not explain. That's why it took so long to check. Authors should be warned about this. It is recommended to use proofreading services. Title and content do not match. The scale development phase is mentioned in the content. Have the referees checked the corrections? I think this study should be reconsidered. Referee "Low" should re-examine.
