

Editor's Comment:

I have gone through the manuscript. It is well deliberated and presented. The topic shall be a path finder for future university planning and architecture.

However, it is a case study of the University " The main campus, ZihniDerinYerleşkesi (Campus), of RTEU is located in Rize city center in the northeastern coast of Turkey".

The bio-geo and environmental factors are different for different places, states and countries and the positions of the buildings utilised for different purposes.

The name of the university taken for study should be mentioned somewhere in the title or Abstract. Otherwise in hydrogeology and landscape planning it is an excellent work.

This manuscript is worthy of publication.
