My editorial decision is to publish as is with minor corrections.

I suggest revised title: "Econometric Study: Spiritual Leadership in Employee Loyalty in General Company for Communications and Informatics in Iraq "

The article is an impressive research article. The article is well-written, most interesting and important. The authors' main conclusions make good common sense to me.

There is a strong correlation between spiritual leadership and the loyalty of employees at the General Company for Communications and Informatics.

I suggest revised title: ``Econometric Study: Spiritual Leadership in Employee Loyalty in General Company for Communications and Informatics in Iraq.
