Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?
Optional/General comments	1. The paper contains several grammatical errors, awkward phrasing, and inconsistencies in language usage. For instance, there are issues with subject-verb agreement, unclear pronoun references, and awkward sentence structures. A thorough proofreading and editing process is necessary to enhance clarity and professionalism. 2. Some statements lack proper citations to support the claims made. For example, when discussing challenges faced by COEs, specific studies or sources should be referenced to lend credibility to the arguments. 3. The methodology section lacks depth and clarity. The paper mentions a trend study with an exploratory design but provides minimal information about the data collection process, sample size determination, or data analysis methods. A more comprehensive explanation of the research methodology is needed for the study to be replicable and credible. The paper relies heavily on anecdotal evidence, such as direct quotes from individuals associated with COEs. While these perspectives are valuable, a more balanced approach incorporating quantitative data or a broader range of qualitative sources would strengthen the study. Recommendations for Improvement: 1. Language and Grammar Check: A thorough proofreading and editing process is crucial to eliminate grammatical errors, improve sentence structures, and enhance overall readability. Consider seeking assistance from a professional editor. 2. Provide a more detailed explanation of the research methodology, including data collection procedures, sample selection criteria, and data analysis methods. This will enhance the transparency and reliability of the study. 3. Properly cite relevant studies or sources to support the statements made, especially when discussing challenges faced by COEs. This strengthens the academic rigor of the paper. 4. Incorporate a more diverse range of data sources to support the study's findings. Consider

	supplementing anecdotal evidence with quantitative data or additional qualitative perspectives to provide a more comprehensive view. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>5. Expand the literature review to include more recent and relevant studies, particularly those addressing challenges in teacher education and the effectiveness of similar programs globally.</li> <li>6. Define and clarify key terms and concepts, such as "Supported Teaching in Schools" and "National Teachers' Standards," to ensure a common understanding among readers.</li> <li>7. Do not paragraph the abstract, change it to single line spacing.</li> <li>8. Correct the spelling of Key words to "Keywords"</li> <li>9. Arrange the keywords alphabetically (start with: Fact, Fears...)</li> <li>10. Correct all in-text citation to confirm with APA 7th edition</li> <li>11. Some references are obsolete such as (Acheampong (2003)). Get recent citation, at least a decade</li> <li>12. One research question is too small for an international publication. Add two more objectives</li> <li>13. Separate the implication of the study with conclusion.</li> <li>14. Your recommendations are more than one. Correct the title to "Recommendations"</li> </ol> Addressing these recommendations will contribute to the overall quality and credibility of the paper, making it more impactful and persuasive in addressing the research questions.
