Compulsory REVISION comments 1. Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript) 2. Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) 3. Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? 4. Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? 5. Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? 6. Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	Yes Yes Yes Yes Yes Yes
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	"The activity takes place in 4 phases, each lasting one week and is carried out asynchronously" This line is as captured in page 2. I think you could rephrase it as " the activities took place in 4 phases" or "the experiments were conducted in 4 phases" Also in the result section of page 2, I saw this "In the second week, each person chooses one of the three concepts they selected the previous week and places it in a new grid in column A next to your name" The above can be captured as " in the second week, each participants chose one of the In column A next to their name". Still on your result section in page 2. I think it will be good if the author replaces personal pronouns like "you" , "your" "her" as much as possible. May be by replacing it with something less personal like "they, "the participant". Next, in the image you used on page 9. " Nutricion" is not English, I think it should be captured as "nutrition" The references appear muddled up. I suggest the authors do the needful to increase the readability of their article.
