Compulsory REVISION comments	The authors have presented important study findings on oral hygiene index in children with stainless steel crowns in the permanent molars. However, the manuscript requires extensive revision before the editor considers it. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> INTRODUCTION: The literature review and background information should be thorough, and more information are required. I would suggest for adding the gaps of previous literature and studies, and how this study findings will incorporate in filling up the deficiencies. At the end of the introduction please add a paragraph on the aims and objectives of the study. MATERIALS AND METHOD: Please add the ethical committee permission number and date obtained. Also, attach a copy of the consent form for the parents if applicable. Describe in detail how the exclusion and inclusion criteria for the participants were selected, and how the healthy controls were reported in the study. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION: Make these sections into two sections. In the results, the P values should be mentioned in the figures. In the discussion section, write the first paragraph with the major findings. Write a section on the "Strengths and Limitations" of the current study.
