

Editor's Comment:

Considering a new addition to the research sector, the manuscripts may be accepted after the mentioned corrections. Completion of the following aspects is highly recommended before publishing.

1. The title needs a change where the development of a new model should be mentioned.
2. The manuscript still does not seem like an original research article. The organization of the manuscript should be more scientific.
3. No proper methodology and results are found in the paper. It is mandatory.
4. Several repetitions were observed in the manuscript regarding the purpose of the study and intended results. These and other grammatical errors should be minimized.
5. The models must be presented with flow charts.
6. Keywords should not be similar to the title words. Keywords needed changes.
