<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. - Figure 1 - quality needs to be improved,2. - Figure 3 - it is not a drawing or chart, but a table, so it should be presented as a table,3. - Figure 10 - no one knows what it represents,4. - Figure 13 - it should be presented as a table,5. - many graphics/drawings contained in this work are taken from other sources - doesn't publishing them in this way require the consent of the authors/publishers?	The authors would like to appreciate the chief editor and reviewers for their painstaking in reading the manuscript, especially in their insightful comments and valuable suggestions that improved the quality of the article. All the figures have been removed since we could not get the consent of the publishers. However, all the statements can stand without the figures/graphics. The sources of the figures/graphics are cited in the work already should anyone is interested. With those citations, the figures could be viewed directly from the sources. We put the figures for graphical ideas of the equipment used. It is worth note that all the corrections have been incorporated.
