The manuscript is important for scientific community. 2. Title of the article is suitable for research 3. Abstract of the article is not comprehensive; it gives complete result which is not necessary here. Abstract also concluded the result output. 4. The subsections and structure of the manuscript is appropriate. 5. Manuscript is scientifically correct but need to further flourish the presentation style. Even font style and size are not consistent throughout the manuscript. There is no proper comparison with other Fabaceae plants. 6. References are sufficient but not updated. Most of the references are before 2016 and less number of references from 2020,2021,2022, 2023, 2024 etc.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Manuscript is scientifically correct but need to further flourish the presentation style. Even font style and size are not consistent throughout the manuscript.
Optional/General comments	The authors provided very useful information regarding antimicrobial effects of Aloe Vera, Psidium Guajava and Habiscus sabdariffa extracts on Salmonella typhi, Staphylococcus aureus and Escherichia coli and Candida albicans. The ethanol extracts of Aloe vera, Psidium guajava and Hibiscus sabdariffa were found to contain alkaloids, tannins, flavonoids and saponins. Overall, the manuscript is written clearly, and the data are presented appropriately and can support the conclusions made. I recommend the current version of manuscript for acceptance after considering the minor changes as mention below.
