If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments) | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The manuscript is important for the scientific community as it contributes to the modernization and validation of traditional medicine through network pharmacology. It provides a comprehensive overview, encourages interdisciplinary research, and serves as a useful resource for researchers. 2. The title of the manuscript, "The application of network pharmacology in the field of inflammation treatment," is somewhat suitable but could be improved to better reflect the specific focus on traditional Chinese medicine (TCM). An alternative title could be, "Integrating Network Pharmacology and Traditional Chinese Medicine for Effective Inflammation Treatment". 3. The abstract of the article is fairly comprehensive but could be improved for clarity and completeness. 4. The structure and subsections of the manuscript are generally appropriate. Consider adding tables and figures to help simplify the subject matter. 5. The manuscript appears to be scientifically correct in its overall approach. 6. The manuscript cites a reasonable number of references. | |
| Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications? | Yes | |
| Optional/General comments | Suggestions: Consider including limitations of the tools used. Include how TCM can be integrated with conventional treatments. | |
