Compulsory REVISION comments 1. Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences on this manuscript) 2. Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) 3. Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? 4. Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? 5. Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? 6. Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form. (Apart from above mentioned 6 points, reviewers are free to provide additional suggestions/comments)	The manuscript titled "Assessment of Socio-Economic and Health Status of Petty Traders in Uyo, Akwa Ibom State, Nigeria" provides valuable insights into the socio-economic and health status of petty traders, a significant but often overlooked demographic. Emphasize the broader implications of your findings for policy and practice in the introduction and conclusion sections. Highlight how your research can inform local government strategies to support petty traders. The current title is suitable as it clearly reflects the content and scope of the study. However, a more concise title could be: "Socio-Economic and Health Assessment of Petty Traders in Uyo, Nigeria." The abstract provides a concise summary of the study, including the objectives, methodology, key findings, and implications. It effectively communicates the essence of the research to the reader. Ensure that the abstract clearly states the research gap addressed by your study and the specific contributions your findings make to the existing literature. The manuscript is well-structured with clear subsections that guide the reader through the study. The introduction, literature review, methodology, results, discussion, and conclusion sections are appropriately organized and detailed. Consider adding a "Policy Implications" subsection in the discussion to explicitly connect your findings with potential policy actions. The manuscript appears to be scientifically correct. The research methodology is sound, and the analysis is thorough. The conclusions drawn are supported by the data presented. Double-check your statistical analysis for accuracy and ensure all assumptions for the tests used are met. Consider including sensitivity analysis to strengthen your findings. The references are adequate and include recent sources relevant to the study. However, it would be beneficial to include more recent studies on the socio-economic and health impacts of informal trading to further support the research findings.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	The language of the article is generally suitable for scholarly communication. However, minor grammatical and typographical errors should be corrected to enhance readability and professionalism.
Optional/General comments	Overall, the manuscript is well-written and contributes significantly to understanding the socio-economic and health status of petty traders in Uyo, Nigeria.
