

Editor's Comment:

I have read the revised manuscript with great interest and the comments from the reviewers for this manuscript for the Asian Journal of Cardiology Research. The manuscript is important for the medical community, especially for the physicians, surgeons, and more so for the gastroenterologists and health care providers. This case highlights a fascinating issue, the importance of early diagnosis of renal and especially intestinal infarction in the presence of acute abdominal pain in patients with atrial fibrillation, which is a potential source of systemic thromboembolism. It is very important to examine the cardiovascular system for atrial fibrillation in patients who present with acute abdomen.

With due consideration, the decision on the manuscript for the Asian Journal of Cardiology Research " is Accepted.
