

Editor's Comment:

After having scrutinized the peer review documents for the manuscript titled "Effectiveness of state and non-state land resource management institutions in the Mungo Landscape of Cameroon", I saw that the manuscript has been reviewed by two different reviewers. The first reviewer gave a minor revision to the authors. However, the second gave a major revision. He gave the article a score of 7. The authors made appropriate changes to their manuscript in accordance with the reviewers' comments. Therefore, the manuscript can be accepted for publication in the Journal of Geography, Environment and Earth Science International.
