

Editor's Comment:

As per my opinion, this article is aptly written on the current problem of mental illnesses, which the whole world is facing nowadays in one form or another.

Also the abstract and the main body script is written within the word limit in a comprehensive manner.

Number of references are also more than 8 in number (as per guidelines of "Short Communication ").

After grammar check & after doing corrections according to reviewer's comments, this manuscript may be published in JAMMR.

It will be nice if writer will mention a line or two about current increase in prevalence of this problem.
