Optional/General comments	It would be great if the main communication processes in the ITSJava application were explained in the article with screenshots of the application window. The 4K model is explained only in the application of cooperative learning. It would be good if it could be explained that it will develop other skills as well. I have doubts because the reference to the literature is not given in the manuscript and the literature is not listed. Or is it in the journal requirements?
