Optional/General comments	Author has done justice in the paper in the form of choosing the title and concept. Review of literature could have been in chronological order. Author could have been broader in selecting area for sample of testing the concept- "Bhimruli is regarded as the biggest guava market in Asia, having operated for more than two centuries. Hence seems ok Could have given a contrast between two to three states rather than Bangladesh alone. Narrative interviews (NI), key informant interviews (KII) and focus group discussions (FGD) have been used to be appreciated Though prone to Bangladesh alone the river-based culture bias to be appreciated. Shital Pati such words meaning to be mentioned. Well distinguished paper on slow tourism among floating markets in Bangladesh to be appreciated.
